

SOUTH CAROLINA
OFFICE OF MOTOR VEHICLE HEARINGS

Can I talk to the Hearing Officer?

No party is allowed to speak to the Hearing Officer about the case without all the other parties being involved. Each Hearing Officer has a staff member who you can speak with to clarify procedural and scheduling matters and who can provide information from the case file (see contact information under the 'Contact Us' tab). However, no OMVH employee can give you any legal advice, and you should never attempt to discuss the facts of your case with any employee of the OMVH. Your opportunity to explain the facts of your case and your position is at the hearing.

DISCLAIMER: The general information provided in this document is based upon laws in effect at the time of the writing. It is not legal advice and cannot be cited as legal authority. Accordingly, before taking any actions based upon this information, we encourage you to consult with a licensed attorney.